SUBJECT

New Program Request – BHSU – Minor in Legal Studies

CONTROLLING STATUTE, RULE, OR POLICY

BOR Policy 2:23 – New Programs, Program Modifications, Curricular Requests, and Inactivation/Termination

BACKGROUND / DISCUSSION

Black Hills State University (BHSU) requests authorization to offer a minor in Legal Studies. The proposed minor will teach students a fundamental understanding of the law, its institutions, and legal practices. The minor takes existing courses and provides a focus to help those interested in Legal Studies prepare for law school. It also supports students who would benefit from a greater familiarity with legal issues, but are not interested in pursuing a JD.

IMPACT AND RECOMMENDATION

BHSU plans to offer the minor in Legal Studies on campus. BHSU does not request new state resources, and no new courses are required. BHSU estimates 20 students enrolled and 10 graduates by the fourth year of the program.

Board office staff recommends approval.

DRAFT MOTION 20231004_5-C:

I move to authorize BHSU to offer a minor in Legal Studies, as presented.

SOUTH DAKOTA BOARD OF REGENTS ACADEMIC AFFAIRS FORMS

New Baccalaureate Degree Minor

Use this form to propose a new baccalaureate degree minor (the minor may include existing and/or new courses). An academic minor within a degree program enables a student to make an inquiry into a discipline or field of study beyond the major or to investigate a particular content theme. Minors provide a broad introduction to a subject and therefore develop only limited competency. Minors consist of a specific set of objectives achieved through a series of courses. Course offerings occur in a specific department or may draw from several departments (as in the case of a topical or thematic focus). In some cases, all coursework within a minor proscribed; in others cases, a few courses may form the basis for a wide range of choices. Regental undergraduate minors typically consist of 18 credit hours. Proposals to establish new minors as well as proposals to modify existing minors must recognize and address this limit. The Board of Regents, Executive Director, and/or their designees may request additional information about the proposal. After the university President approves the proposal, submit a signed copy to the Executive Director through the system Chief Academic Officer. Only post the New Baccalaureate Degree Minor Form to the university website for review by other universities after approval by the Executive Director and Chief Academic Officer.

Black Hills State University (BHSU) requests authorization to offer a minor in Legal Studies. Based on the interest of students and their needs, this minor takes existing courses and provides a focus to help those interested in Legal Studies prepare for law school. It also supports those students who would benefit from a greater familiarity with legal issues, but are not interested in pursuing a JD.

In accordance with SDCL § 13-59 and BOR Policy 1:10:4, a legal studies minor will support BHSU's efforts to prepare "secondary teachers" and provision students with "four-year degrees...authorized by the Board of Regents."<sup>1</sup> This minor will also help facilitate and compliment BHSU current efforts to offer students "educational programming, professional development, community partnerships, and community engagement."<sup>2</sup> Political science majors, business administration majors, history majors, sociology majors, and secondary education majors all stand to benefit from coupling their major with a minor geared towards expanding their knowledge of America’s legal system, the Constitution, and the many ways in which the law interacts with society.

The establishment of a Legal Studies minor at BHSU is consistent with the SDBOR Strategic Plan mission of “enriching the intellectual, economic, civic, social, and cultural life of the state, its residents, and its communities.”<sup>3</sup> Additionally, the content of this minor coupled with experiential learning exercises and/or internship opportunities will support the strategic plan’s efforts to “enhance state workforce development” and prepare students with high impact practices, i.e., “research-based instructional strategies that foster student engagement, enhance learning, and nurture skills like critical thinking, problem-solving and decision-making.”<sup>4</sup>

3. What is the nature/purpose of the proposed minor? Please include a brief (1-2 sentence) description of the academic field in this program.

An interdisciplinary minor to teach students a fundamental understanding of the law, its institutions, and legal practices. This minor also supports a liberal arts framework that connects law to different academic methods and theories to help advance students’ understanding of statutes, lawmaking, government, and society.

4. How will the proposed minor benefit students?

Currently, BHSU only offers a pre-law pre-professional program that suggests courses for students interested in the law. It does not confer a credential upon completion. The Legal Studies minor would equip students with a transcript credential, which will enhance opportunities in the pursuit of law-related careers.

A minor in Legal Studies will provision students with a basic grounding in the core knowledge areas of the law, including legal writing and research, reasoning, history, and government. This background will complement majors in related disciplines and will provide graduates with a foundational understanding of the law in preparation for further study or for careers that involve the interpretation and application of legal principles and practices. This includes acquiring knowledge to better understand contracts, corporate law, commercial transactions, securities regulation, employment law, and constitutional law. Additionally, the skills developed in the completion of this minor, including critical thinking, logic, intensive research and writing, and the interpretation of quantitative and qualitative information, are broadly applicable to students’ intellectual development, civic engagement, and multiple career paths.

Students who are interested in pursuing a law degree often struggle to identify courses that will build the analytical skills necessary for success in law school. By identifying and offering appropriate courses for students, this minor will enable students to pursue their post-graduation plans more efficiently and presumably with greater success. At BHSU, we have a large number of talented students interested in pursuing a law degree. We also anticipate that a Legal Studies minor will become a pipeline to the Knudson School of Law (USD). This would mean developing a prelaw program that provides our students with direct contact to Knudson’s resources, faculty, information packets, guest lectures, and other information sharing opportunities. Another consideration is that a pre-law minor for law school applicants has increased in importance since the ABA ended its LSAT requirement for law school admissions (starting in 2025).<sup>5</sup> Law school admission officials will likely pay more attention now to the content of undergraduate course selections and its correspondence to law school courses.

For students who choose not to pursue a law degree, this minor will provide them with the writing, analytical, and professional skills necessary for entry-level positions in the legal field, such as clerk of court, legal secretary, or paralegal. When combined with a major in the natural sciences, graduates will be well positioned for careers in research compliance or regulatory affairs. Graduates will also be eligible for entry-level jobs in Human Resources, Equal Opportunity Compliance, or similar administrative fields.

BHSU also has many of students who anticipate careers in which their profession will interact with the law, including government employees, nonprofits, businesspersons, military officers, police officers, and other positions within the criminal justice system. Social studies teachers also stand to benefit from a minor teaching them about the law and its interaction with government, business, and society. More generally, the minor will provide students with knowledge of America’s legal and constitutional system, which should foster civic engagement and civic responsibility.

5. Describe the workforce demand for graduates in related fields, including national demand and demand within South Dakota. Provide data and examples; data sources may include but are not limited to the South Dakota Department of Labor, the US Bureau of Labor Statistics, Regental system dashboards, etc. Please cite any sources in a footnote.

There is a clear need for academic programs in legal studies in the state and region, based on the increased enrollment in law programs, workforce need, and anticipated growth. According to the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics and the South Dakota Department of Labor, the occupational outlook for lawyers is anticipated to grow at 10% nationally from 2021-2031, and 14.27% in South Dakota from 2020-2030.<sup>6</sup> According to the American Bar Association, “Over the past decade, the number of lawyers nationwide has grown by more than 80,000 – an increase of 6.6% from 2012 to 2022.”<sup>7</sup> South Dakota ranks 46 out of 50 states per capita in lawyers, which corresponds with a national trend of lawyer shortages in rural areas.<sup>8</sup> Indeed, this paucity is especially true for cities and towns in South Dakota, including BHSU's hosting city of Spearfish.<sup>9</sup> Exposing BHSU students (many of whom are from this region) to the legal professions via a legal studies minor will help address this shortage.

Job opportunities for the paralegal profession are also expanding. According to the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics and the South Dakota Department of Labor, the occupational outlook for paralegals and legal assistants is anticipated to grow 14% nationally from 2021-2031, and 20% in South Dakota from 2020-2030.<sup>10</sup> According to Paralegal 411, paralegal salaries in South Dakota rank 11th in the nation and the anticipated growth rate of paralegals in the state is 20% (between the years 2018 and 2028), which is 6th in the nation.<sup>11</sup> This increase will be driven, in substantial measure, by law firms trying to create more efficiencies and drive down the cost of their services.<sup>12</sup>

According to Projections Central, there is a projected 14.3% increase in the number of lawyers serving South Dakota between 2020 and 2030. There is also a 19.1% projected increase in South Dakota in the number of paralegals and legal assistants between 2020 and 2030.<sup>13</sup> Other professions in South Dakota that interact with the law are also expected to grow. For example, the same site shows a projected increase of 7.4% in the number of human resource managers, 11.3% in the number of human resources specialists, 5.2% in the number of police and Sheriff patrol officers, 6.3% in the number of secondary school teachers, and 4.4% in the number of Court, Municipal, and License Clerks.

7. What is the rationale for the curriculum? Demonstrate/provide evidence that the curriculum is consistent with current national standards.

A working group of faculty representing programs in political science, business administration, philosophy, communications, and sociology collaborated on the development of the curriculum, in consultation with colleagues across BHSU and following review of existing programs at other institutions. The curriculum is based on core competencies required for a comprehensive understanding of the history, impact, and application of the law, as well as existing areas of expertise in the current undergraduate curriculum. The American Bar Association (ABA) identifies the following core skills, values, knowledge, and experience as a sound foundation for law school:

- Problem solving
- Critical reading
- Writing and editing
- Oral communication and listening
- Research
- Organization and management
- Public service and promotion of justice
- Relationship-building and collaboration
- Background knowledge
- Exposure to the law<sup>15</sup>

The curriculum we are proposing is comparable to the legal studies minors offered by University of South Dakota, South Dakota State University, and Northern State University.<sup>16</sup>

Students who minor in Legal Studies must have twelve credits unique to the minor, that are not shared with the major or any other minor. After that, double counting between the major and the minor is allowed. For example, a Political Science major could only take two of the political science courses in the legal studies minor. The rest of this student's Legal Studies courses must come from disciplines other than political science.
